IS A FAMOUS TRIAL

Charge of Murder Against Patterson Woman Before the Court

CASE FOR THE STATE OUTLINED

Assistant District Attorney Rand Says the Alleged Murderess Was Determined Young Should Not Sever His Relations With Her By Going Abroad-Revolver Used in the Shooting Purchased by Her and Her Brother-in-law at a Pawn Shop-Several State's Witnesses Examined -Dense Crowds at the Afternoon

New York, Special.-The trial of Nan Patterson for the murder of Bookgun before Justice Davis in the Supreme Court Monday, and when adjournment was taken Assistant District Attorney Rand had concluded his outline of the State's case, and had examined several of the witnesses for the crowd in the court this morning, but when the doors were opened for the afternoon session there was a rush to gain admittance which swept the squad of court officers off their feet. The main floor of the Criminal Court building was a solid mass of people, and those who had business in the court had to fight to even reach the vestibule. The crush became serious in a short time, and police were called in from the streets to aid in maintaining

The stories that there would be further delay in the trial were early disposed of by the announcement from the court that Foreman Henricks, of the who had asked to be relieved, uld not be excused. Then came Mr. Rand's opening, in which he said the State's witnesses would prove that Nan Patterson killed Young, and that the killing was planned several hours before the morning on which Young met his death.

Mr. Rand said in his opening that the crime would be proven by strong son, saving that in March, 1904, at his wife's pleading, Young decided to shake Nan Patterson, "She was given $800 to leave him. I am compelled to show the relation that existed between Young and this woman. This evidence will not be milk for babies, therefore let us be strong enough to face the truth, though we would far rather turn

He detailed the momevents of Miss Patterson and Young, declaring that potwithstanding the money which was given her as an inducement to leave. Nan said she had a better claim on Young than any other woman, and reused to give him up."

Mr. Rand declared that on June 3, J. Morgan Smith, the prisoner's brotherin-law, accompanied by a woman, purchased a revolver at Hiram Stern's pawn shop. "The same night," he said, "Nan and Young met and went to Flannery's saoon, where they remained until 3 clock the next morning. During the night there was a series of scenes between Young and his mistress. When he told her that he was going away, she replied that he could not, and that ac could not hide himself on any acean

"I am not going to produce J. Morgan Smith, because he has left the After the purchase of the revolver he was seen quarreling with Nan Patterson near the Sixth avenue pawn shop. He was heard to say to her 'You must do it,' and she replied, I will not.' Then Smith slapped his sister-in-law's face and pushed her into the cab and sent her home.

The first witness to be called from among those who were in the vicinity of the cab where Young was shot was Wm. J. Junior, a policeman. His attention had been called to a commotion in the cab by a citizen, and as the vehicle drew up he ordered the driver to stop. As he climbed upon the step as saw a man whose body had seen concealed by the closed door. The man was unconscious. Miss Patterson told him that her companion had shot himself, and he ordered the cabman to drive to a hospital. In the meantime e had found a revolver in the right hand pocket of Young's coat.

Fuel Scarce Near Mukden.

Mukden, By Cable.—The anticipated general attack by the Japanese has not developed as yet. The uncertainty of the present situation gives rise to conflicting rumors and speculation regarding future operations. Some expect the Japanese to attempt a wide flanking movement on Tie Pass, and others claim the armies will practically winter in their present positions. Complete inactivity prevails. The nights are growing colder, and fuel is scarcer. Crowds of Chinese are wandering over the fields and roads, picking up everything combustable, even the roots of Chinese corn.

CIRCUS ROBBED AT TARBORO

Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Victimized in a Mysterious Manner.

Tarboro, Special.-The safe in the ticket wagon of Forepaugh & Sells Bros. circus was robbed of over $30,-000 Saturday morning. This money had been reserved to pay off employes after disbanding tonight. A guard had been placed over the safe, but is said to have left his post after the circus train arrived, when it is thought the safe was rifled.

Warrants were immediately served, and about twenty employes arrested, but all except the guard were discharged, because of insufficient evidence. Detectives have been put on the case. The management has decided to postpone the sale of the circus until after they have gone to winter quarters.

All the animals, paraphernalia, etc., will be shipped to Columus, Ohio, and the hundreds of employes will scatter in various directions. On account of the robbery, the show will not disband before probably next week. The manager believes the guilty party will be apprehended before moving from Tar-

The circus arrived in Tarboro Saturday morning in three sections over the Atlantic Coast Line. The first section arrived at 12:30, the second at 1 o'clock and the third at 3 o'clock.

The pay wagon had been broken into and robbed during transit or shortly after it arrived in Tarboro. The robbery was discovered shortly after 5 o'clock in the morning and efforts were made to capture the thieves.

Anniversary Celebration at St. Patrick's Church, Washington, Signalized by the Presence of the Chief Executive, Who Spoke From a Balcony of the Rectory to Crowded Streets-Little Care For Moral Weaklings, But a Welcome for the Highest Endeavor by Men of Every

Washington, Special.-President Roosevelt made an address Sunday at the 110th anniversary celebration at St. Patrick's church and the dedication of Carroll Hall, the new parochial building and parish school. The Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford, rector of St. Patricks, acted as the master of ceremonies. > "I wish to-day, in the very brief reupon this thought, that while in this country we need wise laws honestly and fearlessly executed, and while we cannot afford to tolerate anything but the highest standard in the public service of the government, yet that in the last analysis the future of the country must depend upon the quality of the individual home, and of the individual man or women in the home, and that very largely depends upon the way in which the average boy or girl is brought up. (Cheers and applause.) Therefore, a peculiar responsibility rests upon those whose life work is to see to the spiritual welfare of our people and upon those who make is their life work to try to train the children of the future so that they will worthy of that future. The rules of good citizenship are tolerably simple. The trouble is not in finding them out: the trouble is in living up to them after they have been found out. We know fairly well what quantities there are which, in their sum, make up the man or wife, son or daughter; but I am afraid we do not always see them as well developed as we would like to, I wish to see in the average American citizen the development of two sets of qualities, which we can roughly indicate as sweetness and strength-the qualities on the one hand which make those which on the other hand make him jealous for the rights of others just as much as for his own rights. You probably know that I do not care very much for the coward or the moral weakling. I wish to see in the man manliness, in the woman womanliness. I wish to see courage, perseverance, the willinginess to face work to face, you men, if it is necessary, danger, the determination not to over a dispute about some cotton. Mr. sarink back when temporarly beaten but to come up again and wrest triumph from wefeat. I want to see you men strong men and brave men, and in addition I want to see each man of you feel that it has strength and courage are joined the qualities of tenderness toward those he loves, who are > dependent upon him, and of right dealing with all his neighbors. Finally, I want to congratulate all of us on certain successes that we have achieved in the century and a quarter that has gone by of our American life. We have difficulties enough. and we are a long way short of perfection. I do not want to see any immediate danger of our growing too good; there is ample room for effort yet left. But we have achieved certain results: we have succeeded in measurably realizing certain ideals. We have grown to accept it as an axiomatic truth of our American life that the man is to be treated on his worth as a man, without regard to the accidents of his position. (Applause.) that this is not a government designed to favor the rich man as such, or the poor man as such, but it is designed to favor every man, rich or poor, if he is a decent man who acts fairly by his fellows (Cheers and applause.) We have grown to realize that part of the foundations upon which our liberty rests is the right of each man to worship his Creafor, according to the dictates of his conscience, and the duty of each man to respect his fellow who so worships pupils of School No. 17 from har Him. the future of this mighty majestic nation of ours, lies in the fact that we have grown to regard one another, that we brothers have grown to regard one another, with a broad and kindly charity, and to realize that the field for human endeavor is wide; that the field for charitable, philanthropic, religious work is wide, and that while a corner of it remains untilled, we do a dreadful wrong if we fail to welcome the work done in that field by every man, no matter what the creed, only he works with a loftly sense of his duty to God and his duty to his neigh-

JUDGE PARKER AND SOUTHERN MACHINE LEADERS.

In the last issue of the Caucasian we published in full a most significant editorial from the Washington Post. The Post is independent in politics, is able and is fair. It is beyond question the most friendly Northern paper to the South. Besides the editors of that paper understand accurately Southern conditions and Southern sentiments. It is probably the only Northern paper that understands the "nigger" question in all of its phases and bearings.

But this editorial was not on the race question. It was headed "A Word About Judge Parker." The facts stated in that editorial are of more importance to the Southern people than anything that could be said about the race question. The Post editorial began as follows:

"It will not do to dismiss the subject of the Democratic position in the campaiga of 1904 without a There is at least one allusion which is something that everyone can do. should, in common honesty, be dis- Let us hear from you. pelled before either the victors or the vanquished turn their backs upon the old battlefield and move THE SOUTH IS TO BE CONGRATU- upon the statute books of North onward toward the next one."

The Post, after showing how "ridiculous" the Southern Democrats are made to appear by running after any candidate that the North says can carry New York, proceeds as ery to the masses of the people in 000 of our school money is unac-

Then the have been to the South's credit if leaders went down among thier people and spread the glad tiding right and left."

This important fact stated by the Post shows clearly one of the causes of such crushing Democratic defeat. The Southern Democratic leaders listened to the syren voice of the trusts and bond syndicates of Wall Street, and agreed to support their candidate, if only they could get campaign funds and offices for themselves. The people were not in it. Now these same Democrats are trying to hide their treachery by telling the masses of the Democratic party that Judge Parker was beaten by the trusts. The Post says:

"Now they are told that Judge sell you out again.

Parker went down in glorious defeat while battling for their causethat he sought to defend them against the ravening trusts and fell beneath the deadly onslaught. The "Southern leaders" adopted him on lieve that the trusts destroyed him because he fought their battles so

These tacts should cause every honest, patriotic Democrat not only hang his head in shame, but also to rise up in nonest indignation and repuke the treachery of machine politicians like Simmons, who were parties to the conspiracy, and who are now trying to fool the people again. The people are learning the truth and a day of reconing is com-

LET US TAKE A LESSON FOR THE FUTURE.

There are enough voters in North Carolina, who either stayed at home who voted for Parker, but who today delighted that Missouri went for Roosevelt, to have changed the result in this State. And many them would have cast their votes for Roosevelt if they had seen a hope of carrying the State for him. The feeling that we were prosperous, and that it was best to let well enough alone; that there was danger in having another Cleveland administration and hard times; that Roosevelt was much tne best man of the two was all over North Carolina, as well as Missouri. In some spots like Davidson county, which gave Roosevelt a majority while electing the local Democratic ticket by 500 majority, this teeling emphatically asserted itself. If there had been an organization and a vigorous campaign in this State as there were in Missouri, this feeling would have manifested and asserted itself more largely, and possibly North Caro- thieves and increasing the salaries of lina might today have been in the proud column with Missouri. But what will be said Cleveland administration. And sponsible for it.

Now suppose Mr. Bryan fails to capture the next Democratic national convention, will he again submit to Wall Street and again appeal to the country to elect another Cleveland-Parker candidate? If Mr. Bryan intends to again submit then his friends should not go into the next Democratic national convention with him. They have shown more wisdom and patriotism in this campaign than Mr. Bryan.

The people have now begun 'odo their own thinking more than ever cost $18,561,50. In 1902 it cost before, and it is a most healthy and $19,123.10, and in 1904 it cost encouraging omen.

In the campaign of 1900 the Democratic leaders promised, if elected to properly provide for the insane of the State. What have they done for these poor unfortunates? In Kinston, a few months ago, an insane white woman was placed in the common jail. She tore her clothes from her and was exposed to the criminals in the prison. The authorities said there was not room for her in the asylum at Raleigh and while there was room for her at Morganton they did not have any money to care for more patients. And this is only one of the many pitiful cases in the State.

While the Democrats are whooping it up for education, without giving us any better schools, wouldn't it be well to take care of these poor unfortunates also? Instead of increasing the number of judges, appropriating money to defend election other officers, wouldn't it have been > schools Taught in 1904 Than in 1903-Nearly $300,000 of School Fund Not Accounted For.

It is a source of regret that the Re port of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for 1904 was not made public before the election. It would have furnished Governor Aycock, who is so enthusiastic on food for thought, and the people of we get from this report is rather industrious and sincere in his work, San Antonio. but the facts obtained from this report require some explanation.

In 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898 and 1899 it cost the State of North CAUCASIAN]. Carolina about $14,000 to run the public schools one day. In 1902 it $22,367.75 to run the public schools in North Carolina one day. In other words, it cost the State of North Carolina about $8,367.75

more each day to run the public schools in 1904 than it did in 1898. Listen again. In 1903 the report shows that we had 17 weeks school term, and in 1903 we had 16.70 weeks, making a gain of only 11 days from 1903 to 1904. Now let us see what this 11 days' increase cost the State. In 1903 the total fund for schools was $1,584,222.13, and in 1904 it was $1,901,237.29, making the increase in school funds $317,015.16, and since this increase in funds did not give us but 11 days more school term, it will be seen that the cost of one day increase was $211,343.44. The report shows also that there were fewer school houses built and fewer schools taught in 1904 than in 1903. The teachers did not get this extra sum, for the report shows that the teachers in 1904 were paid only $15,000 more than in 1903. The query is, what became of this extra $317,015.16 that went into the schools of 1904. It cannot be said that it went to increase the school term, for the term was not creased but 11 days and that should not have cost but $21,000 and that would leave nearly $300, 000.00 not accounted for, unless we say it went into the general expense this machinery cost per year?

The total expense, including salary of County Superintendent, County Institutes, Treasurer's Commissions, Boards of Education, and other purposes in 1898 was less than $90,000.00. These expenses in 1903 were $168,840.21, and these same expenses in 1904 were $194,007.24. In other words, the running expenses, money which does not go into the schools, was over $104,000.00 more in 1904 than it was in 1898, and more than $25,000.00 more than in 1903. Dr. Spillman, of the Agricultural Department, and others, think that the impending menace will mean a great deal in the way of showing that cotton is not the only crop which can be raised with profit in the South. It was for this reason that the government started diversification farms in the country.

The Legislature of South Carolina, and the legislatures of other States, have passed laws forbidding real things of life. The devoted the importation of farm products from the Texas districts infested with the weevil which is destroying the cotton crops in Texas and Mexico, but has not made its way across the Mississippi.

I would often nato catsup and vinegar, ten teaspoonwake from a restful sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's sauce. Mix this dressing thoroughly, and put an equal portion in each glass, Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recomended to me. I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I together with five small raw oysters. was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. A recent process is the making of artificial rubies, and has been discovered by a German chemist named Verneuil. It consists of fusing a mixture of clay and chromium oxide with the heat of an oxyhydrogen burner and then allowing the mass to cool suddenly, thus producing crystals The two materials are placed in alter nate horizontal layers, and the heat, which is as intense as possible, is applied from above. The quick cooling caused by suddenly shutting off the blast produces the hardness charac teristic of the ruby, and the resulting erystal, which is pure and brilliant, is said to possess all the physical properties of the natural gem, being our readily and taking a fine polish .- Har per's Weekly.

RISK LIVES IN SMALL BOAT.

Fourteen-Ton Vessel. A daring trip is to be made by two Brighton (Eng.) men in a craft so small that should the elements during the time she is in mid-channel prove anything but of the best, the chances are that she will never again reach land. The two young men are Mr. A. falo Forge. L. Napper and Mr. J. L. Langford, who start in their post, the Brighton, for West Australia during this week. The object of the voyage is to reach the pear! fisheries at Broome. in N. W. Australia, cheaply, with a craft ready for the work there. The adventurous pair propose to travel 16,000 miles in a fourteen-ton boat. Two of the most ingenious devices to be carried aboard for the sake of safety are a dinghy and a floating archor, both the inventions and patents of Napper himself. The dinghy has been constructed with a flat bottom to enable it to be carried standing flat on the deck, and thereby dispensing with the cumbersome day its. Raising Dishrags.

A novel enterprise, that of raising dishrags, is being exploited by a number of Southern California horticulturists, who received the inspiration for the scheme from Charles Richardson, whose gardens in Pasadena are becoming famous for their remarkable productions. Mr. Richardson has successfully raised many growths new to American soil, and this year is exceeding all his previous triumphs by raising thousands of dishrags. Last year Mr. Richardson's string beans, which measured forty-three inches in length, created a stir, but dishrag vines, which, with their pendent dishrags, twine about orange trees, palms, evergreens and peach trees, and peek in at the second story windows, bid fair to win the championship from the beans. These dishrags, or vegetable sponges, as they are sometimes called, are indigenous to Africa, but now that it has been demonstrated that they vill thrive in this country, they are bound to become a popular production. The seed look like a cucumber, but when ripe the stell is broken and a sponge disclosed.

A Whopper from Philadelphia. While picking huskleberries on the mountains along Hagerman's Run, near Williamsport, on Sunday, D. W. Mack and son, Lewis, of South Williamsport, walked into a den of about thirty rattlesnakes. An exciting fight followed, the two men using stones and clubs. Seventeen of the snakes were killed, the others seeking safety in the crevices of the rocks.

During the battle Mr. Mack, who held an open jack knife in his hand, ripped a gash ten inches long in a snake's body, and a mink, which had been swallowed by the reptile, crawled through the hole and tried to get away, but was so nearly dead from the squeezing it had received and confinement in the reptile's body that it could not get far, and Mr. Mack killed it with a blow of his club.-Wellsboro
